

Hockey Skills Development Coach – Immediate Opening

Prime Hockey | Minneapolis–St. Paul, MN

Location: Twin Cities Metro Area, Minnesota

Start Date: Immediately

Position Type: Part-Time / Flexible Schedule, with opportunities for additional hours

Position Overview

Prime Hockey is seeking motivated, knowledgeable, and energetic Hockey Skills Development Coaches to join our growing team in the Minneapolis–St. Paul area.

This position focuses on developing youth hockey players through small-group training, individual skill development, and organized training sessions with local youth hockey associations.

We are looking for coaches who are passionate about player development, enjoy working with athletes of different ages and skill levels, and can create a positive, challenging, and engaging learning environment.

Key Responsibilities

- Lead on-ice skills development sessions for youth hockey players of various ages and abilities.
- Conduct small-group training sessions focused on skating, puck skills, shooting, passing, and overall hockey development.
- Work directly with local youth hockey associations to deliver structured player development programs.
- Design and execute progressive, age-appropriate drills and training sessions.
- Provide individual feedback and instruction to help players improve their skills and confidence.

- Collaborate with Prime Hockey coaching staff to maintain consistent training standards.
- Maintain a professional, positive, and energetic presence on and off the ice.

Qualifications

- Strong hockey background with previous playing and/or coaching experience.
- Experience coaching youth hockey players preferred.
- Ability to demonstrate and teach fundamental and advanced hockey skills.
- Strong communication, leadership, and organizational skills.
- Ability to work independently and effectively manage on-ice groups.
- Passion for helping young athletes improve and reach their potential.
- Availability during afternoons, evenings, and/or weekends.
- Ability to travel to various hockey facilities throughout the Twin Cities metro area.
- Ability to meet applicable USA Hockey coaching, SafeSport, and background screening requirements.

Former junior, college, and professional hockey players are encouraged to apply.

Previous high-level playing experience is valuable, but the ability to teach, communicate, and connect with young athletes is equally important.

What Prime Hockey Offers

- Flexible coaching opportunities throughout the Minneapolis–St. Paul metro area.
- Opportunities to work with established youth hockey associations and dedicated hockey families.
- Small-group training environments that allow coaches to make a meaningful impact on player development.

- Opportunities for additional coaching hours through camps, clinics, private lessons, and seasonal development programs.
- A collaborative environment with experienced hockey development professionals.
- Competitive compensation based on experience, qualifications, and coaching responsibilities.

About Prime Hockey

Prime Hockey is a hockey development organization dedicated to helping players reach their potential through quality instruction, innovative training methods, and a commitment to long-term athlete development.

Our programs include individual and small-group skills training, youth hockey association development, camps, clinics, and competitive hockey opportunities.

We believe great coaching goes beyond running drills. It requires building relationships, teaching proper fundamentals, and creating an environment where players are challenged to improve every time they step on the ice.
